Product Introduction

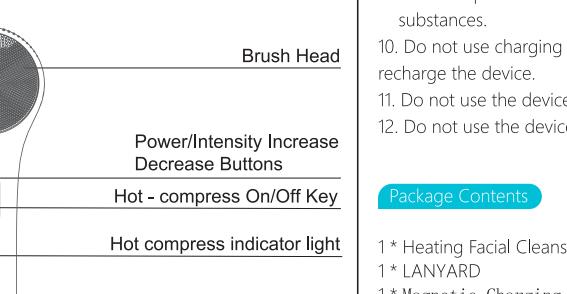

This device releases scientific vibration pulse waves, which are guided to the skin surface by elastic silicone contacts to remove grease, dirt, cosmetic residues, etc. in the pores, allowing the skin to recover. There are five intensity levels to meet the usage requirements of different skin types. The instrument body is made of food-grade skin-friendly silicone, which is safe and non-irritating to the skin. It is equipped with two different types of silicone contacts to scientifically cover all facial areas. In addition, it adopts magnetic contact charging and IPX7 waterproof technology, making it safe, reliable, and worry-free to use.
